

EXHIBIT 6

NEW YORK POSTAPA FY 2009 – Editorial

Please check one:

<input type="checkbox"/>	Self Appraisal
<input type="checkbox"/>	Performance Appraisal

<input type="checkbox"/>	Non - Managerial
<input type="checkbox"/>	Managerial (employees with supervisory responsibilities)

Employee Name:	Austin Fenner
Department:	editorial / City room
Position:	reporter
Date of Current Assignment:	May 2007
Supervisor:	Michelle Gottlieb
Date of Hire:	May 2007
Location:	1211 Avenue of the Americas New York City

NEW YORK POSTAPA FY 2009 - Editorial Profile*Work History/Current Role:

Fenner joined the NY Post in May 2007 as a senior reporter. He was hired to cover general assignment stories and to enterprise stories for the city desk. Fenner currently reports to Michelle Gottlieb.

Professional Characteristics:

Fenner is a talented reporter. He is creative and shows initiative. During big stories, Fenner has a tremendous talent to rise to the occasion. Fenner demonstrated these fine results during the Miracle on the Hudson airplane landings, the inauguration of President Obama and the apprehension of Archbishop Dolan in New York City.

During the Miracle on the Hudson story, Fenner was able to get an interview the one passenger who was pulled from the frigid waters with just his underwear. During Barack Obama's win at Democratic nomination & his inauguration, Fenner was able to produce the historic event with stories of witnesses to Martin Luther King's 1963 speech & follow a Harlem church congregation that listened to King 10 days before he was assassinated. The Harlem congregation sent 4 buses to DC for Obama's inauguration. Fenner was also our lead reporter for the Archbishop Dolan story. Fenner delivered a insightful story about how Dolan arranged for a family to adopt a severely handicapped child which put into practice Dolan's pro-life stance. Fenner orchestrated a Moses 10 commandment photo by having Overall Performance Summary: the archbishop hold up two front pages of NY Post.

Fenner needs to sharpen his time management skills, so he can produce more exciting - hard hitting enterprise stories. Fenner is a deep player. He is always ready to tackle any assignment - big or small - with a deliberate professionalism.

Rating:	5
----------------	----------

Rating definitions:

- 5 - Outstanding
- 4 - Exceeds Standards
- 3 - Meets Standards
- 2 - Needs Improvement
- 1 - Unacceptable, Does Not Meet Standards